

Summer Intern Bio

Livi Wise
Communications

Class of 2019

Interned with Communications in summer 2019. Introduced to Swagelok via a family employee, and previously interned with Communications in 2018.

“Here at Swagelok, I truly felt like I was part of the team and gained valuable experience to help further my communications skills and knowledge. I was exposed to many new and different areas of communications that challenged me to think more creatively throughout my second summer here. I am so impressed with Swagelok’s commitment to its associates and customers all over the world, and I am incredibly grateful to have worked alongside such a great group of people!”

Over the summer, Livi is working on several projects across the Communications department, including event support and logistics planning, optimizing a digital display ad campaign, and developing social media content and practices. She also had the opportunity to attend a Women’s Network event and take part in a working session with a local vendor. She has really enjoyed her projects so far and feels they are preparing her for her future career.
